Juniors: Week Seven

I hope you are doing well, getting outside, and eating healthy. We are close to the end of the school year. Next week I will give you the plans to complete the end of the year. Many of you are completing assignments, responding to emails, and reaching out if you need things. However, there are also a great many of you who I have not received work from. Just as I slow the pace when we are face-to-face, this is my week to check-in, reevaluate, and make sure that everyone is on pace to be successful in class.

If you have submitted all the assignments, you have this week to focus your attention of catching up on other classes. I will post the last assignments for the year by Saturday so you can get ahead.

If you are behind on assignments, this is your time to catch up. If you need help, please reach out to me to set up a Zoom and we can have multiple different meetings depending upon the needs of the class.

If you are working from home and have not yet started submitting assignments, please refer again to the Remind code below to begin taking photos of your assignments and sending them in to me. Take a photograph of your assignment, in focus, and send them to my account. I will grade them and we can start catching you up.

If you need anything else, other than help with schoolwork, contact me via email or Remind. I want you to succeed.

We are in this together!
