KEY Club (Kiwanis Educates Youth) One of the largest clubs on campus, Key club dedicates itself to services in the community and is constantly involved in projects, donating time and money to various organizations and causes. This international club, sponsored by the Sunset Kiwanis of Fountain Hills, blends service with leadership training.

NHS (National Honors Society) This unique organization blends service with leadership training. The projects and activities undertaken provide learning experiences outside of the classroom and encourage students to become involved in their school and community. An annual food drive is one of the service projects, and students serve as academic tutors to other students

Research Club Students learn the basics of research on an original project. Projects include a chemical process, photovoltaic, hydrogen as a fuel, and new processes. A paper is submitted and defended for the annual ASU's Central Arizona Research and Engineering Competition.

SADD Students Against Destructive Decisions

Sister Cities Sister Cities is a club, open to any student, seeking to promote peace through mutual respect, understanding, and cooperation – one individual, one community at a time. The club facilitates student travel and exchanges and works to strengthen partnerships between our Sister City communities and strives to promote cultural understanding.

SkillsUSA SkillsUSA is a partnership of students, teachers, and industry working together to ensure America has a skilled work force. It provides quality education experiences for students in leadership, teamwork, citizenship, and character development. This club is integrated into the Photography, Graphic Design and Video Productions classes.

Student Government (STUGO) Elected members of the student council have the opportunity to learn leadership techniques directed at organizing, developing, and carrying out school and community projects. Students learn parliamentary procedure, agenda preparation, and study elements of leadership. STUGO coordinates dances, assemblies, fundraisers, and community service activities, as well as being responsible for planning homecoming, prom, senior breakfast, senior class gift, and other annual events.

Teen Court Teen Court is a real program – not a mock exercise or simulation – that involves real cases and benefits actual juvenile defendants, the student participants, and the community. Student participants are able to develop public speaking and critical thinking skills through participation in the various roles, such as a bailiff, clerk, juror, victim advocate, or attorney.
