

Parents Reaching Out Resource Center

Parents Reaching Out is a statewide non-profit organization that works with parents, caregivers, educators and other professionals to promote healthy, positive and caring experiences for New Mexico families and children. They offer workshops as well as a resource information center.

The Resource Center provides information to parents, families, educators and professionals throughout New Mexico. They have a collection of books, articles, information files, newsletters and pamphlets on topics from A to Z.

They have materials on a wide variety of topics including:

- ❑ Parenting
- ❑ Early childhood
- ❑ Literacy
- ❑ Local and national resources
- ❑ Resources in other states
- ❑ Parenting a child with special needs
- ❑ Disabilities
- ❑ Rare disorders
- ❑ And much more...

Other resources they provide:

- ❑ Locating resources in another state if you are planning a move
- ❑ Connecting you with local and national resources and organizations
- ❑ Providing information about specific disabilities and conditions
- ❑ Finding information on rare disorders

If you would like to make an information request or check out material from the Resource Center, please e-mail your request, your name, phone number and address to:
