LUKFATA PUBLIC SCHOOL
Agreement to Publish Pictures on School Website

Throughout the course of the school year, Lukfata School will be publishing pictures of students, along with highlights about their events and/or achievements, to the school website. We are very proud of our students and want to share their events and achievements with our community. These may include ball game highlights, academic tournaments such as Quiz Bowl, special contests such as fundraiser sales winners, in-school events such as Red Ribbon Week dress-up days, etc. The student’s name, along with a brief explanation, caption and/or article, may be listed with their event or achievement. These articles will resemble what you would expect to see in a newspaper.

Lukfata School is committed to the safety and confidentiality of our students. We will never publish personal contact information, grades, or any other type of confidential information about your child to the public domain of the Internet. The general rule for publishing to the school website is: If you could see it published in the newspaper, you may see it published on the school website. Also, please be aware that just as with the newspaper the website is subject to human errors and/or omissions. Lukfata School personnel will make every effort to ensure that anything published to the website is accurate and complete. However, the school cannot be held liable for any errors and/or omissions.
