Hello Jeff Tech Families,

I am reaching out in an effort to support the emotional and mental health needs of our students throughout these unprecedented times. We have worked very hard to cultivate a supportive relationship with our students and realize that in addition to possible feelings of isolation and fear that may exist students do not have access to the caring adults in our building. There are resources available in these times to help bridge this gap.

First and foremost, if students have immediate concerns or need to talk to someone there are helpful options available to you:

- Safe2Say – Utilizing this App you will be able to reach out to the Administration of Jeff Tech or your concern could be pointed towards the appropriate agency.
- If you have a concern about a fellow student this is also a good option to let someone know.
- The Clearfield Jefferson Mental Health Crisis Services – 24 Hour Call Line – 1-800-341-5040.

Additionally, all four sending school districts are now offering food for school age students. This up to date information available on our webpage at www.jefftech.info and also our Facebook page.

For parents, please use this time to talk with your kids and support them in a positive manner. We can all agree that none of what is happening is normal and our kids depend on us for consistency and unconditional support. We stand with you and will do everything we can to support our students and their emotional well-being.

Sincerely,

Barry Fillman
