

2109 Safety Town Report:

Navajo County Public Health Services District partnered with Timber Mesa Fire, Banner Health, schools, Nexus Drug Coalition Program and White Mountain Fire and Life Safety to bring Banner's Safety town to Navajo County residents. This is the third year to bring this event to our community. Each year we try to reach out to new schools and organizations to reach new Navajo County residents that have not received the program in previous years. This is an interactive educational event that can be adjusted for any age.

Safety Town set-up:

Amy Stradling with Navajo County Public Health Services discussing the importance of seatbelts and keeping the lap belt down on the lap not up on the abdomen.

Students learning about fire safety and having an evacuation plan. They got to practice escaping through the window and meeting at the tree located in the back ground.

Taylor Intermediate students gathered for the final presentation on stranger danger and pedestrian safety.
