Middle School Math Teacher – 1.0 FTE – Certified Math educator with experience using inquiry-based learning (IBL) approaches to math instruction. The 8th grade curriculum is CMP3, which uses collaborative problem-solving and guided inquiry as the primary instructional model. Experience with co-teaching preferred. The middle school math program is supported by a co-teacher, an instructional coach, and a math interventionist in order to differentiate instruction in an inclusive setting with high expectations for all students.

Middle school teachers at MTRS work in grade-level teams to support students, plan community activities, and develop interdisciplinary experiences. Each team includes dedicated math, social studies, science, stem, and special education teachers. MTRS offers small classes in a beautiful rural community, with a strong emphasis on social-emotional learning and student-centered education.
