

Angela Petree, now known as Angela Cochran attended Conemaugh Township Area Middle School/High School and graduated in 1999.

Following graduation from Conemaugh Township, Angela attended the University of Pittsburgh for one year before enlisting in the United States Army as a Signals Intelligent Analyst. She was fortunate to be assigned a unit in Bad Aibling Station in the German state of Bavaria. She lived there for two years, served in the military, and traveled around Europe. She had many opportunities to work as a SIGINT Analyst following her enlistment, instead she chose to pursue a career in education. Angela then attended York College of Pennsylvania earning a Bachelor of Science in Secondary Math Education. Angela Currently resides in Somerset, Pennsylvania, with her husband and three children.

Angela took six years off from teaching to stay home with her three children. During that time, she earned a Master of Science in Curriculum & Instruction from St. Vincent College. Recently, she started teaching part-time as Adjunct Professor of Mathematics at Penn Highlands Community College while still being able to stay home with her two younger children.

Angela had three favorite teachers in high school. They were: Mr. Kendig, Mr. DeBiase, and Mr. Horne. She also had plenty of fond memories, but her favorite is her memory of the school spirit everyone had. Angela added, "It made school so much more interesting."
