During the month of January, many celebrations occur. One of those celebrations is honoring the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. Martin Luther King Jr. day took place on January 17, 2022. On this day, people usually celebrate by having marches and parades. At these marches and parades, speeches are usually given by civil rights leaders and politicians.

Martin Luther King Jr. was a Baptist minister and social activist who led the civil rights movement in the United States from the mid-1950s until his death in 1968. He is well-known not only for his nonviolent protesting but also for his famous “I Have a Dream” speech. Even in the years after his death, Martin Luther King Jr. remained the most widely known African American of his era.

This federal holiday is a day full of honor. When asked how she felt about Martin Luther King Jr. day, Laci Fetterman said, “I think that it is a wonderful celebration. Not only because we are celebrating Martin Luther King Jr., but because we are also celebrating our nation’s growth.”

New Covid Guidelines
By Briella Harnett

On January 4, 2022, the school administrators were informed by the Department of Education that Conemaugh Township Area School District must follow the new CDC coronavirus guidelines as of January 5, 2022. “The coronavirus guidelines are forever changing,” stated Mr. Kakabar. This was not the first change to the coronavirus guidelines this year.

The new CDC guidelines were first released to the public on December 27, 2021. The guidelines state that the isolation period has been shortened. If a student/teacher contracts the coronavirus and is asymptomatic, they only need to be quarantined for five days. However, after those five days, they are required to wear a mask for five days. If a student/teacher contracts the coronavirus and is symptomatic, they may return once symptoms are gone or severely reduced. They are still required to wear a mask for five days once they return. A student/teacher may refuse to wear a mask. If this happens, they must stay in quarantine for a total of ten days.

It has been a year since the coronavirus has become a pandemic. The CDC has issued many guidelines throughout the year, including ones recently released. “I like these guidelines. It helps to make everything seem normal again,” stated Callie Parker.
My Health Matters More Than Your Class
By Sara O’Connell

After a speech given by one of my peers, I felt compelled to write about mental health. This tends to be a touchy topic among all age groups, and that should not be the case. Mental health cases have peaked over recent years because of how much work and pressure students receive from their studies. This is why schools should implement mental health days.

Schools should not require an excuse or any type of medical note when it comes to mental health. As people, we cannot control our emotions all of the time; sometimes we just need a break, and that should not be considered “unexcused.” We cannot do our work to the “best of our ability” when feeling down or exhausted; nor can we control when we miss school for an appointment or a therapy session. We live in an area where therapy is limited, which means there are limited times available. Additionally, there are students who don't benefit from traditional therapy. Why should these students be forced to go somewhere, get an excuse, and turn it in when the session does not even help them? In recent years, the amount of schoolwork has increased astronomically. The amount of stress and anxiety caused by schoolwork is unnecessary. Why should we put classwork ahead of our health?

Reflecting on these points, I hope you consider these issues. Students should not have to feel the need to complete classwork instead of relaxing for the sake of their sanity. Work is not more important than health, and it never will be.

Winter Activities
By Abby Persio

There are so many winter activities that let you have fun all season long. Whether it is playing out in the cold snow or chilling inside watching a movie in your pajamas, your winter season can be filled with excitement. Ice skating and hiking are also fun activities. However, my personal favorite winter activities would have to be snowboarding and playing in the snow.

I love snowboarding and go every winter season. Hitting the mountain is a great way to destress myself from the stressful school week. Snowboarding is a great way to spend time with my whole family. We like to take trips to different resorts and all get to spend time together doing what we love. Snowboarding is great for your mental health because as research shows spending time in nature is a great mood booster. As much as I love snowboarding, I also love playing in the snow. There is so much to do, so you never get bored. My personal favorite snow activities include sledding, tubing, and snowball fights. There's nothing better than playing in the snow on a cancelled school day with your friends and family. Playing in the snow provides you with an unrestricted amount of space and endless opportunities to stimulate your play. Breathing in the fresh crisp air also strengthens your immune system and allows you to be overall more creative.

There are an endless amount of activities to partake in to have fun all winter long. Even if it is as simple as a movie night in your favorite pajamas or as wild as hitting every bump going down your favorite sled riding hill, this season can be very enjoyable if you make the best out of it.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day
By Lacie Kamler

What is Martin Luther King Jr. Day? How do we celebrate it? Martin Luther King Jr. Day is a holiday in the United States honoring the achievements of Martin Luther King Jr., a Baptist minister and civil rights leader who advocated for nonviolent resistance against racial segregation. Martin Luther King Jr. Day is usually celebrated with marches, parades, and speeches by civil rights leaders and politicians. Individuals and organizations also undertake volunteer efforts in support of what is often called the MLK Day of Service.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day is a holiday that takes place every third Monday in January. This holiday honors the achievements of Martin Luther King Jr. He first came to national prominence during a bus boycott by African Americans in Montgomery, Alabama, in 1955. Martin Luther King Jr. founded the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in 1957 and led the March on Washington in 1963. The most influential of African American civil rights leaders during the 1960s, he was instrumental in the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which outlawed discrimination in public accommodations, facilities, and employment, and the Voting Rights Act of 1965. King was awarded the Nobel Prize for Peace in 1964. He was assassinated on April 4, 1968. Martin Luther King Jr. Day will be celebrated on Monday, January 17, 2022.

Almost immediately after King’s death, there were calls for a national holiday in his honor. Beginning in 1970, many states and cities made his birthday, January 15, a holiday. Although legislation for a federal holiday was introduced in Congress as early as 1968, there was sufficient opposition, on racial and political grounds, to block its passage. In 1983 legislation making the third Monday in January a federal holiday finally was passed, and the first observance nationwide was in 1986. The day is usually celebrated with marches and parades and with speeches by civil rights and political leaders.

Lord of the Rings Prequel
By Hunter Hartnett

Amazon has done an amazing job in the past few years of making sure that those of us who love fantasy and sci-fi have a place to go to get our fix through the form of some great television shows. The service is gearing up for the release of the “Lord of the Rings” prequel later this year.

Amazon isn’t going to remake the “Lord of the Rings” series that was last seen as several Peter Jackson-directed movies. This series, like the film saga, will be set in Tolkien’s Middle-earth. The company says the original storylines will come from a time preceding “The Fellowship of the Ring.”

New Year’s Resolutions
By Madison Thomas

New Year’s resolutions can look different for everyone. Getting in shape for that perfect summer body is definitely the most popular resolution. For others, however, their resolutions are much simpler. Whether it’s a random act of kindness or going to the gym, each and every resolution counts.

Anything as simple as giving a compliment a day can make a difference and be your New Year’s resolution. The excitement of getting fit over the winter to have your ideal body is always a good option. Getting in shape teaches people consistency, motivation, and work ethic. However, this resolution is not for everyone, but letting the people in your life know that you love them is a fantastic way to start off the New Year and is a great resolution for all!

Overall, New Year’s Resolutions can be a fun and exciting way to start off each year. Having goals and motivating yourself is the best way to gain success in 2022.

District Band

By Emma Glover

Conemaugh Township’s band members have been working very hard for the upcoming District Band. This is a musical competition for students who have a passion for learning and playing music. These students are very excited to represent our school in this annual music season.

District Band will be held in Hollidaysburg and will be held from January 27th - Friday the 28th. There will be an online audition that Wednesday. These students usually stay the night for the competition; however, due to Covid 19, the students will not be able to make this tradition happen. Students will also have the opportunity to practice and work under a college professor with experience in music. Two students were interviewed on how they feel about the upcoming competition: Sam Worst (a senior) and Adelyn Dull (a junior). Sam Worst said, “My favorite part about District Band is all of the festivals that are held there. I believe that the harder we work, the higher our rank will be.” Sam has been a musically inclined student since the beginning of his high school career and showed pure excitement for this upcoming event. Adelyn Dull excitedly shared, “I think that this is a great learning experience for students who want to learn more about music and also increase their musical skills.”

Hopefully the students participating in this event enjoy themselves and give their all while competing. Good luck!

Boys Basketball Update
By Ben Cotchen

The Conemaugh Township boys varsity basketball team has had a stellar start to the 2021-22 season. The team currently has a record of 12-1, which puts them at first place in the District V Class AA rankings.

This season, the Indians have been led by the trio consisting of senior Jackson Byer, junior Tanner Shirley, and sophomore John Updyke. The team also receives important contributions from juniors Ethan Black, Alex Gregory, and Michael Shonko. After an early season loss to Penn Cambria, the Indians have caught fire and have not lost a game since, including big wins against conference opponent and last year’s state runner up, the Berlin Mountaineers. Also, the Indians recently pulled off a big win against rival Windber.

When asked about this season, senior Jackson Byer said, “We have had a very strong start to the season, but it is crucial to keep the momentum going. The season is only halfway done and we need to keep playing well and working together if we are going to achieve the goals we have set out.”

The Indians hope to continue their success moving forward. The team hopes to obtain the top seed in WestPAC North and contend for the conference title. As the push for playoffs begin, the Indians also will work to keep their current spot as the first seed in the District V playoffs, where they hope to achieve their goal of defending the District V title.

Junior Tanner Shirley says, “Once we move into playoffs, it’s important to stay focused. I think having the playoff experience from last season will help us as we battle for the District V championship.”

When he is not on the golf course, Austin enjoys video games, skiing, hunting and fishing, and hanging out with friends. Austin has no shortage of school spirit and is always supporting Conemaugh Townships athletic teams. He also participates in the Ski Club and Grill team.

Speech Team
By Abby Persio

Speech team is an after school activity where you present a prepared speech to judges and compete with other students. You can write your own speech, do a commentary speech (where you research for 30 minute and write a 5 minute speech), pick a pre-written speech and act it out, or debate with a partner.

Jensen Korber, a member of the CT speech team, was asked why he chose to participate in the speech team and he responded, “I find it a fun experience and it is helping me with public speaking.” Advisor Mrs. Custer said, “We had two home meets: one December 17th and one January 12th.” At the meet on January 12th Caiden Mauzy got 1st in Humorous, Connor Bacca got 2nd in Commentary, and Evan Thomas got 3rd in Commentary. At the December 17th meet Tanner Hunsberger got 3rd in Prose, Maddie Rensko got 2nd in Informative, and Caiden Mauzy took 1st place in Humorous.

There is another meet on January 26th. District speech is on February 25th. Then Regionals is on April 12th-13th.

I was very excited for this opportunity to get to do something that I love and get to be with some of my favorite people while doing it.”

Overall, this festival was a great experience for all of the students who made it. Great job to all of our CT students who had this great opportunity for their singing careers.
The Music of Euphoria
By Sasha Tarabrin

HBO’s Euphoria is officially back for its second season. The show, which centers around the lives of several California highschool students, has been long awaited since the tumultuous ending of its first season. The series is set apart from other teenage television shows due it’s striking visual aesthetic, use of color, glamorous makeup and costume design, and most importantly - music. The score, composed by musician Labrinth, is heavenly and possesses the exact emotions that the show exudes. This season, more people have been tuned in than ever before, and that is shown through the rise in popularity of some older tracks that the show has used.

Euphoria’s music supervisor, Jen Malone, is responsible for all of the perfectly placed needle drops throughout the seasons. Some of the popular tracks of season two include, Steely Dan’s “Dirty Work”, INXS’ “Mystify”, and Gerry Raferty’s “Right Down the Line”. It is safe to say that Euphoria’s score and soundtrack makes the show as pervasive as it currently is. Despite being, “just another teen show,” it is exposing the younger generation to a slew of artists and expanding their musical knowledge. Be sure to check out Euphoria every Sunday at 9 P.M on HBO!

On Sunday, January 23rd the Conemaugh Township Ski Club took their first trip of the season to Hidden Valley Ski Resort. They were transported by bus, which was free of charge for the club thanks to the many fundraisers done by the school this year. Led by Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Stankan, Mr. Hazlett, and Mrs. Miller, 35 students from grades 6-12 went and enjoyed the slopes. The group went snowboarding and skiing from 1pm-7pm on the Twilight Slope. Not only did they enjoy the fun, but they were able to make use of these long, cold winter months and have a fun alternative to playing video games while waiting for the weather to warm up. The next trip is on February 6. Make sure to contact Mrs. Lyons if you are interested!

The athlete of the month for January is Katrina McCann. Kat plays on the Conemaugh Township Junior High basketball team. She always is uplifting to the team and enjoys playing with her friends.
