Next Week Peek

Some things we will be talking about next week:

Next Week Topics:

- Blowing/Wiping Nose
- Self Portrait
- Organs

Math

In Math this week we were introduced to the train puzzle. This puzzle helps us work on our fine motor skills, shapes and visual development.

Sensorial

This week we were introduced to the tactile circle match. This activity helps us work on our visual development as well as texture identification.

Science

This we were introduced to the body. We used cards to identify our body parts. We also learned about the eye and matched pairs of animal eyes together.

Geography

This week we learned about our left and right hand. He then used markers to trace our hands. We also learned about family trees and made our own tree with our handprints.

Practical Life

In Practical Life we were introduced to sitting and walking the line.

Language

This week we were introduced to the silence game. The silence game helps us learn to listen to the sounds around us.

MONTESSORI LESSONS FOR LOWER DRAGONFLY NURSERY

SEPTEMBER 3RD- SEPTEMBER 6TH, 2019

Parallel Play

Our first step to learning to play with others is to engage in parallel play. Parallel play is when we play side by side. At this age the usually don't interact with each other or even acknowledge each other but will continue to play by themselves. As they get older, they will begin to interact more and more with each other.
